

SOLVING THE WORLD'S MOST COMPLEX CHALLENGES FACING FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCY

Optimize your performance

Nathan brings more than seventy years of experience helping financial institutions improve their operations and governance to improve decision-making and performance. We are dedicated to helping community banks reduce operational risk, lower costs, and improve customer delivery. With our help you can be sure that you are maximizing operational performance.

KEY SERVICE OFFERINGS

- Operational efficiency
- Process improvement
- Data governance
- London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) transition

OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCY

Nathan can help you maximize operational efficiency to improve performance throughout your bank. Whether it is being agile in response to customer demands, or reducing operating costs and costs of compliance, operational efficiency drives customer satisfaction and performance. With Nathan, you can go from compliance to turning your operations into a value and cost advantage.

PROCESS IMPROVEMENT

Nathan can help you develop new processes to promote efficiency, agility, and quality within your systems. Whether it is in response to new regulatory requirements, such as CECL or the LIBOR transition, process improvements can be a major undertaking. With Nathan, you can evaluate your current state, define a more efficient state, and transition faster and with less disruption.

DATA GOVERNANCE

Nathan can help you develop confidence that your data is accurate and up-to-date to best capture risks in your portfolios and operations. One of the greatest risks in any modelling process is ensuring that your data is robust and error-free. With our help you can rest easy knowing that your data meets industry best practices for model risk management and provides you the information you need.

LONDON INTERBANK OFFERED RATE (LIBOR) TRANSITION

Nathan can help you transition to a world without IBORs quickly and minimize disruption. Disbanding LIBOR will affect products throughout the financial services industry, and lenders who get ahead of the change will be in the best position to provide a smooth transition for their customers, minimizing cost and maximizing satisfaction. With Nathan, you will be able to quickly identify LIBOR exposure, assess transition impact, and develop new products with a robust understanding of their impact on your portfolio and how it will impact your customer satisfaction.
